

Essentials

Selling real estate is a people-focused business. It is also a numbers game. These two go hand in hand. Your brand building, marketing, and lead generation depend upon how completely and smoothly you merge these two in your unique market. Our program will help you accomplish this quickly and consistently.

We cannot guarantee results because we do not know your starting point and how diligently you'll apply the techniques and principles of our program. However, our program is devised to move you towards one weekly transaction within ninety days.

Our streamlined program best suits solo agents who want to close between thirty and fifty transactions annually.

Our coaching program starts at $449.00 per month. We meticulously audit your current business practices, prioritize various components, and agree on a plan of action. One 30-minute private weekly coaching session follows this. Agents and brokers focused on success and committed to an immediate uprise can double the weekly sessions to 60 minutes for a fee of $749.00 per month. You receive a 10% discount when you prepay for six months.